

Whether you are young or just young at heart, male or female, a parent or caring adult, able to give three hours a year or three hours a week --

You have the power to make the future of today's girls a brighter place.

Girl Scout volunteers help empower girls to breakdown barriers while exploring new horizons within themselves and within the community. You too, can use these experiences to build upon personal and/or professional skills and talents.

There are a wide range of long and short-term volunteer positions available in addition to the most familiar one – a Girl Scout leader. You decide how you want to be involved and what your schedule will be.

As part of Girl Scout Council of the Mid-South, volunteers help offer opportunities and activities for girls, ages 5-17, living in Fayette, Lauderdale, Shelby and Tipton counties in Tennessee; Crittenden County in Arkansas; and DeSoto, Marshall, Panola, Tate and Tunica counties in Mississippi.

Girl Scouting welcomes girls and adults from all racial, ethnic, religious and socioeconomic backgrounds, allowing members to be part of a uniquely diverse community with shared values.

Read on to learn how you, too, have the power to make a difference in the lives of girls.

Where can your power be used?

If you...

like to work with girls, carry out activities, or be a role model...

enjoy talking to groups, helping others learn, or sharing your interests and talents (swimming, carpentry, canoeing, music, money management, cultural heritage, etc.)...

are detail oriented, good at planning, or can analyze data...

can keep records, fill out forms, or complete reports...

can motivate others, solve problems, or organize groups...

want to have fun, meet new people, make a difference, and see girls grow strong, smile and succeed...

You might be a good...

Become involved for the girls, for the community,
for the future, for YOU.

Girl Scout volunteers have said:

- their own self-confidence has improved
- they learned a new skill
- they met new friends
- they developed a new interest
- they experienced something new
- they received rewards they didn't typically receive in their daily lives
- they were able to give back to the community
- they developed leadership skills that help with their professional job
- they made a positive influence on the development of girls
- they spent more quality time with their own daughter
- the rewards were greater than they ever expected
